Class2 Outlier to 1984 timing suggestions

Contents

Here's a suggested plan. It puts about 35 minutes on the questions, with the setup slides moving quickly.

We still keep in mind Dwight Eisenhower's quote: "Plans are useless, but planning is essential." Applied to the timeline, it meant that, of course, we will adapt on the fly, rather than follow the plan.

I encourage you to defy my mathematican's efficiency (see D-503 in "We") and emphaisze thinking, rather than passively receiving thoughts.

- 0:00–0:04 · Opening (slides 1–3: Title, Road Map, Table of Context), 4 min
  - Use the timeline on the title slide to state tonight's arc in one sentence.
  - Go over the table quickly and don't stop on each cell. It's there for reference.
- 0:04–0:07 · Notes from Underground: the outlier ignored (slide 4), 3 min
  - A quick recap of last week.
- 0:07–0:12 · Stepping stones: We and Brave New World (slide 5), 5 min
  - Most people haven't read them, so present this slide rather than discussing it.
- 0:12–0:18 · Disciplinary Surveillance (slide 6), 6 min
  - Includes about 2 minutes for one clip. The telescreen reveal is the strongest.
- 0:18–0:23 · Narrative Analysis (slide 7), 5 min
  - Includes about 1–2 minutes for the diary clip.
- 0:23–0:26 · Bruner's terms (slide 8), 3 min
  - Cut this first if you're running late, since the questions raise the same ideas.
- 0:26–0:32 · Fromm's Afterword (slide 9), 6 min
  - Includes about 2 minutes for one clip, the boot line or Room 101 but not both.
- 0:32–0:34 · Control dressed as care (slide 10), 2 min
  - A short bridge into the questions.
- 0:34–1:09 · Questions for the room (slide 11), 35 min
  - Plan on going deep into three or four questions, not all six, at about 8–10 minutes each.
  - Good openers are #1 (lonelier) and #4 (are you an outlier?). They are personal and easy to answer.
  - Keep #5 (Fromm) and #6 (history and truth) for the second half. Those are the ones most likely to turn to current events.
- 1:09–1:19 · Orwell in the news (slide 12), 10 min
  - Pick two or three of the extra-credit finds and ask which lens each one uses.
  - If #6 already drifted into current events, merge it with this slide.
- 1:19–1:22 · What comes next: The Matrix (slide 13), 3 min
- 1:22–1:30 · Buffer, 8 min
  - For overruns, a second clip, or a question that takes off.

Clips: budget about 6–8 minutes of film in total. The Scene Index (slide 14) is there if a discussion calls for another scene.

If you're running long: cut Bruner (slide 8) and Control as Care (slide 10) before you cut question time.
