DMC References and Summaries

Contents

This page is still in progress 1

Course Overall 1
Scott non-fiction . . . 1
Scott fiction . . . 2
References from Preface Section on Constructive vs Descructive Mind Control . . . 2

Notes From the Underground 2
Translations and Performances . . . 2
Scott writing related to Notes from Underground . . . 3
external references . . . 3

This page is still in progress

- The main change is that sections will be added/polished as we go on.

Course Overall

- Course Web Site Instructions

Scott non-fiction

- DMC: Syllabus - assigned for week 1
- DMC: Preface - assigned for week 1
- DMC: Cartoons
  - cartoons summarizing course, which can be printed on clothes and mugs:
    - Course Overview
    - Stories in a Dystopian Arc
    - An Arc of Stories and Lenses
    - Mad scientist series, needs touching up:
      - Mad Scientist with Lenses on Dystopian Arc
      - Course Parody
      - Course Goals
- DMC: Chronology
- DMC: Foucualt Timeline
- Two Kinds Of Control: From Foucault's Discipline to Deleuze's Societies of Control

Scott fiction

- DMC Protagonists React to Manifesto
- Responses to Questions by Story Characters and Fictional Students
- The Panel of the Defiant: A short story for the last session of Tales of Defiance to Mind Control in the Modern Age
- The Triad, Chapter 1
- Undergound Barbieo

References from Preface Section on Constructive vs Descructive Mind Control

- Steven Hassan's books on cults
- The Instability of Truth by Rebecca Lemov.
- Spin Dictators by Sergei Guriev & Daniel Treisman.
- Stupid Idiots by Lars Svendsen
- On Bullshit by Harry G. Frankfurt.
- The Medium is the Message by Marshall McLuhan.

Notes From the Underground

Translations and Performances

- Cedar Video Transcript
- Cedar Video Guide
- Garnett Translation pdf
  - Garnett Translation txt
- Comparison Cedar Video and Garnett translation
  - in video: `simply in order to prove to themselves that men are still men and not the keys of a piano`
  - in book: `simply in order to prove to himself, as though that were so necessary, men still are men and not the keys of a pian`
- NOTES FROM THE UNDERGROUND, The Classic Story from Fyodor Dostoevsky, COMPLETE BOOK, Both Parts., Youtube audio, 4:21:21
  - reading of classic translation by Constance Garnett

    Description: Dostoevsky's Notes from Underground isn't just a novel—it's a psychological descent into the mind of a man who both despises and craves human connection. The Underground Man, bitterly intelligent and painfully self-aware, dismantles every ideal of rational progress, exposing the contradictions of the human soul. Is he a tragic victim of modernity or just a self-absorbed misanthrope? With its raw confessions, philosophical rebellion, and chilling honesty, this book set the stage for existentialism and remains one of the most haunting character studies ever written. Step into the darkness of the underground—if you dare.
- Pevear and Volokhonsky translation
- MacAndrew Translation
  - This Signet 1961 edition of Dostoevsky short storeis also includes:
    - Whie Nights
    - The Dream of a Ridiculout Man
    - Selections from The House of The Dead
    - An afterward giving much information about Dostoevsky and his writing.

- Here is MacAndrew's description of Notes from Undeground:

  In Notes from Underground, Dostoyevsky attacks the Crystal Palace, i.e., man-made, socialist utopia, on the grounds that man is a fickle, unreasonable animal who could never live in an edifice based on reason: man's whims and wishes are bound to clash with his enlightened self-interest. Thus, Dostoyevsky explains, man is unlike the ant which, as some might say today, is totally integrated in its group-the anthill-and feels physically, and in whatever other way an ant feels, fulfilled in acting for the general good of the anthill.

  While the anthill is the ant's end in itself, to man its equivalent is only a never-attainable mirage, and the meaning of his life lies in building a road toward it. But being too lucid, the underground man knows this, and so can find no solace in road-building.

  For those who pretend to reach out for the Absolute through aesthetics by claiming to "devote their lives to the good and the beautiful," he has nothing but scorn. Here, while he is at it, Dostoyevsky takes a few sideswipes at some of his contemporaries with whom he disagreed and who irritated him (the painter Gue, the critic Chemyshevsky, the writer Saltykov-Shchedrin, etc.) but these appear only as incidental allusions in double references which have an overriding general import

Scott writing related to Notes from Underground

- Week1: Notes from Undeground
  - Notes on Notes from the Undeground -assigned reading for Week 1.
- DMC: Notes from Underground Context
- Not the Keys of a Piano dialog, with links to clips
- Powerpoint for Week1
  - Created with three references above in mind.
  - Ends with first three cartoons in: DMC: Cartoons

external references

Links to series of lectures on the philosophy of Notes from Underground, by Gregory B. Sadler, "That Philosophy Guy":

These were in a footnote in Notes on Notes from the Undeground

- Notes From Underground | Existentialist Philosophy & Literature, YouTube 1:01:12
  - Here is a (computer generated) transcript of the above, divided into sections.
- Notes From Underground | Intellectuals Inertia and Negativity | Core Concepts, YouTube 17:26
- Notes From Underground | Pleasure, Perversity, and Suffering | Core Concepts, YouTube 16:06
- Notes From Underground | Revenge, Anger, and Justice | Core Concepts, YouTube 19:41
- Notes From Underground | Desire and Reason | Core Concepts, YouTube 17:59
- Notes From Underground | Self-Interest and the Advantageous | Core Concepts, YouTube 14:25
- Notes From Underground | The Most Advantageous Advantage | Core Concepts, YouTube 18:23
- Notes From Underground | Enlightenment, Laws of Nature, and The Will | Core Concepts, YouTube 16:14

More references

- Existentialism from Dotoevsky to Sartra, by Walter Kaufman
- Doestoevski's Exile to Siberia, Shuman, R. Baird Published in: 2023 2 of 4Published in:2023
  - version on EBSCO site

- {Jordan Peterson's Brilliant Breakdown on DOSTOYEVSKY "Notes From Underground"](https://www.youtube.com/v YouTube, 9:04
- Dostoevsky's Underground Man: Prophet or 19th-Century Incel?, Jason Tebbe August 19, 2019
- 20 of the best book quotes from Underground Man
- Super Summary Study Guides to Notes from Undeground'
- What Putin Gets Wrong About Tolstoy, Dostoevsky, and the Russian Soul, Nadine B Jursten, Mar 20, 2022, Updated: Apr 22, 2023.